

Looking for a few good (responsible, ingenious, dedicated) teens that are dedicated to helping parents and teens communicate better with each other.

You will assist in:

- Developing content for a new Web site
- Developing quizzes, widgets, videos, and other tools

We want you to give honest opinions on subjects ranging from sex, drinking and drugs, depression, and school violence to money, education, career aspirations, and what makes teens really happy.

Our need:

Teens ages 12-19 who will devote a certain number of hours each week to our site. They will work remotely but, ideally will be available for a monthly meeting either in person or online.

Our promise:

Teens will be directed and supervised by an adult editor who will provide guidance, oversight, and plenty of praise.

Compensation:

In consideration of their work, teens will receive excellent college and job recommendations, and maybe extracurricular credit, and an i-Tunes gift card for each piece of work done. More extensive projects will offer cash.

Please contact:

Judith Sachs
Editorial Director
215-468-0897

jsachs@parentingteensnetwork.com